

I do solemnly swear ...

District Judge William R. Porter made sure everything was official when he attended and officiated at the Morris County swearing-in ceremonies for the county's newly-elected office holders and those who were re-elected to serve another term. Judge Porter gave the oath of office to each of the elected officials who followed the Judge's lead and repeated the oath as given for the particular office. Repeating the oath of office as County Judge, in the photo at the left, was Doug Reeder as he is sworn in by District Judge Porter, at the left. Morris County office holders pose with District Judge William R. Porter in the photo below following the swearing-in ceremonies. Posing left to right, are District Judge William R. Porter, County Treasurer Molly Cummings, Justice of the Peace Nakita Friday, Constable Tommy Hunt, Justice of the Peace Jennifer Easley, County Judge Doug Reeder, District Clerk Gwen Ashworth, County Clerk Scott Sartain, Precinct 4 Commissioner Todd Freeman and Precinct 2 Commissioner Kerry McCoy. By Marlene Bohr
